

McLAUGHLIN IN HILL'S DEFENSE.

Veteran Democratic "Boss" of Brooklyn Says Former Senator Is "the Only Man for State Leader in New York."

DID NOT DEFEAT MR. COLER.

Credit for Brooklynite's Nomination, He Says, Belongs to Mr. Hill, and He Characterizes His Detractors as a "Lot of Sharling Puppies."

Hugh McLaughlin, the aged leader of the Brooklyn Democracy, resents the post-election attacks made upon David B. Hill, and in a vigorous interview to-day defends the former Senator against the charge that he was responsible for the loss of the recent State fight.

Mr. McLaughlin said: "All the credit for Mr. Coler's nomination belongs to Hill and all the blame, if there is any, belongs to me. Why this outcry against Hill now? I shall tell you why. It is because he listened to the demand of the rank and file of the Democracy of this State and gave them a young and vigorous candidate. Now a pack of snarling puppies snap at his heels. He does not, fortunately, need to mind them. "Mr. Hill's critics say that he should be cast aside, but they suggest no man to take his place. Mr. Hill is without a peer in his State as a leader. He is a born leader. Samuel J. Tilden picked him out and made him leader, and Samuel J. Tilden knew men. Since that time Mr. Hill has mounted step by step, has been twice Governor and has been United States Senator. He has made nothing out of politics. His enemies have not been able to find a piece of cheese or a bottle of patent medicine in his possession, that had a political connection.

Only Man for Leader. "I have watched Mr. Hill carefully all through his career, and I am satisfied that he is the only man now in the State who can fill the position of State leader.

"A few years ago I contributed—by non-action—to the defeat of Mr. Hill as State leader. I let some other fellows have their way and did not stretch out my hand. But I knew then, and I told those other fellows, 'You are making a great mistake.'"

"It is absurd—this talk about Hill betraying Judge Parker to serve his own personal ends. Judge Parker was never a candidate, and would not have taken the nomination any more than I would pick up that stove, which is glowing hot. As to personal preference, do not these carpers know that it was Hill who made the nomination of Judge Parker, who brought it about and who arranged it so that he could be elected?"

Reply to an Editorial. This interview was specifically in reply to an editorial in the Albany Argus entitled, "Overboard with the Jonah," and demanding the removal of Hill as State leader.

In Brooklyn, however, there is a feeling that the rank and file of the party is not in accord with the sentiments of Mr. McLaughlin, while it is well known that the leaders of Tammany are almost unanimous in their demand for a change. Ex-Senator Hill's only comment thus far is: "I really have nothing to say."

TWO TUMBLES FOR ONE AMBULANCE.

Woman Fell to Her Death and Man Dropped Through Breaking of a Fire-Escape.

This afternoon the Long Island College Hospital had two ambulance calls in cases of a very similar nature at the same time. One was that of a woman who fell from a third-story window, through a clothesline giving way; the other that of a laborer who fell from a building through the sudden breaking of a fire-escape.

The woman, who was Mrs. Amelia Nelson, of No. 120 Degraw street, Brooklyn, is dead; the laborer, Alexander Falk, of Baltic street, will probably die. Mrs. Nelson, whose husband is a laborer, was thirty years old. She was hanging out clothes at the window of her room, which are on the third floor rear. She was reaching forward to place some clothes far out on the line when it suddenly gave way. Mrs. Nelson lost her balance and fell into the back yard. She received a fracture of the skull and internal injuries, and died a few minutes after she was taken to the Long Island College Hospital. Alexander Falk, who is sixty-five, was repairing a fire-escape at No. 190 St. Mark's place. The framework gave way and he was thrown to the ground. His right leg and both his arms were broken. On account of his age and severe injuries he is not expected to live. His home is supposed to be somewhere in Baltic street.

DEVEREY WANTS HIS SALARY. Bill in Albany Overseeing Trial of His Test Case.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Former Chief of Police William S. Deverevy, of New York City, appeared before the Court of Appeals to-day. He was present to listen to arguments in his suit to recover $15,000 salary, alleged to be due him as Chief of Police for the past months succeeding the passage in June of the new law. Deverevy is the period intervening between the time he was legislated out of office as Chief of Police and his appointment as Deputy Police Commissioner under the new law.

J. W. MACKAY'S BODY ARRIVES.

Widow of Millionaire and His Daughter, the Princess Colonna, Passengers on Oceanic, Which Brings the Casket.

RESTS IN MORTUARY CHAPEL.

The body of the late John W. Mackay, who died of pneumonia in London July 20, was brought back to this country to-day. It arrived on the Oceanic. Mrs. Mackay, the millionaire's widow, and his daughter, the Princess Colonna, also arrived. They were met at Quarantine by Clarence Mackay, the only surviving son of Mr. Mackay, who went down the bay in a revenue cutter. At the White Star pier were Vice-President D. T. Ward, of the Commercial Cable Company, of which corporation Mr. Mackay was President, and a number of other business friends of the great cable builder. Mrs. Mackay and her daughter were immediately driven away. Clarence remained to look after the body. It was taken from the steamer by Undertaker Edward Bayha, of No. 220 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, and sent to the Greenwood Cemetery, where the internment took place this afternoon. Father Ducey, of St. Leo's, conducted the ceremony. The funeral was private, being attended only by the members of the immediate family. There were no church services. The body was laid to rest in the beautiful mausoleum, which was finished shortly before Mr. Mackay's death. The coffin was of ebony with silver handles.

BLAME NOBODY FOR EXPLOSION.

Coroner's Jury Says Cause of Fireworks Explosion Is Unknown and Prisoners Freed.

The Coroner's jury which has been investigating the cause of the fireworks explosion which caused fourteen deaths in Madison Square on election night, concluded their work to-day.

Their verdict was that the cause of the accident was unknown and Coroner Scholer immediately discharged from custody John Craig and John Laman. The jury suggested that hereafter the explosion of bombs be prohibited at all times in the streets and parks of the city. When the inquest was resumed before Coroner Scholer to-day John Laman, who lighted the fatal bomb, testified that he could not say who told him to light the fuse. "By Charles Homer, and when somebody told me I took a torch and touched it to the fuse. I did not realize the danger. The explosion rendered me unconscious, and when I revived I heard that a lot of people had been killed. That is about all I know." Henry J. Pain was then called. The mortars, he said, had been used repeatedly. He got them from his father. They had been manufactured by the Armstrongs, of England. He said he allowed people to stand as near as with thought it safe. "Do you think so now?" asked Mr. Scholer. "I don't see why not. We don't know what caused the explosion. I could fire a thousand shells from that same mortar, giving it time to cool between shots, and there would be no such accident." Coroner Scholer then told the jury that in his mind there was no doubt some body was criminally responsible for the explosion.

ROOSEVELT OFF FOR THE WOODS

President Is on His Way South to Trail the Black Bear Deep in Mississippi Fastnesses.

PANTHERS IN PLENTY, TOO.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 12.—President Roosevelt passed through Pittsburgh at 10:30 o'clock this morning en route to a point in Mississippi where he has arranged to spend several days hunting black bear as the guest of President Stuyvesant Fish, of the Illinois Central Railroad. He is travelling on a special train of three cars and is accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou and his physician, Dr. G. A. Long, of the Navy. He will go direct to Memphis, Tenn., without stop, passing through Columbia and Cincinnati over the Pennsylvania lines. From Cincinnati to Louisville the train will run over the Louisville and Nashville, and there it will be shifted to the tracks of the Illinois Central. He will reach Memphis to-morrow, where he will be joined by President Fish, and the journey to Mississippi will be made over the Yazoo and Mississippi Railroad.

Big Game Awaiting. The next destination of the President has been kept secret. Hunting with a gallery is not to the taste of a sportsman like President Roosevelt, and it was for that reason that he vetoed the hunt to Mississippi. Bears are reported to be plentiful, and there is also said to be some panthers in the vicinity, so that the President is looking forward to his hunt with much pleasure. The train will be side-tracked at the nearest point to the camp and remain there until the President's return to Memphis on Wednesday.

Strolls in Depot Yard. The President arose early this morning and was engaged on his correspondence almost all day. During the short stop here to change engines the President left his car and paced up and down the platform. A large crowd had gathered. After greeting them with a pleasant "Good morning," the President stepped off the platform and took a brisk walk down the tracks, stopping occasionally to speak to a yard switchman or an engineer in his cab on a siding. The crowd was amazed at this display of unconventionality. The Secret Service men started to follow the President, but he waved them back. The police, however, took good care to keep the crowd back of the end of the train and the President had a clear field for his constitutional.

The train left at 10:41 for the West, and as it pulled out the crowd cheered heartily. President Roosevelt came out on the back platform and waved a good-by to the President, but he waved them back. The police, however, took good care to keep the crowd back of the end of the train and the President had a clear field for his constitutional.
